1,400

INVESTIGATIVE POWER 1,400 field researchers make personalized visits to collect information

Each report issued by Teikoku Databank is the result of diligent effort. Every day, 1,400 professionally trained field researchers personally visit and extensively interview corporate executives, resulting in detailed data based on fact, not claims. This is why our reports are reliable and recognized worldwide.

NETWORK 83 offices throughout Japan

Our extensive information network of 83 offices throughout Japan has proven to be an invaluable asset. This network is the result of our strenuous efforts to continually connect with clients as trusted information partners. The members of each team location have in-depth knowledge of the local economic trends and are on the pulse of industry developments. In addition to conducting corporate research, they serve as consultants to companies seeking business advice, thus fostering positive relationships as business information partners.

HISTORY An over 100 year-old reputation of excellence

Our global reputation and excellent track record of over 100 years are unmatched. In fact, most banks, financial institutions, and insurance firms in Japan rely on us as the de facto standard. Our strength lies in our continuous commitment to qualitative information-gathering and our key professional staff trained in research expertise and keen analytics.
